as with any "sweetener" in an annuity contract, extra protection comes with a price, usually in the form of a lower annual payment guarantee. surely a truly devoted man of religion would give his life for god if the need arose i need to devote more time to studying additional or maybe exercising much more i really like what you have acquired here, certainly like what you are stating and the way in which you say it might as well have printed it on the front page of the newspapers
